

Global Conversations

Building capacity to empower people

The third conversation in this series focuses on how professionals can engage with people going through transitions by improving communication skills between staff and patients/students. Following the presentations, the moderator will facilitate a conversation and take questions from participants.

Time (DK)	Topic and panelist	Institution
8 am 6 pm Australian time	Welcome by Bodil Rasmussen, Chair of Nursing (Western Health), School of Nursing and Midwifery	Deakin University
8.05 – 8.25 am 6.05 – 6.26pm	Values-based partnership – short and stable model for building capacities in a nursing staff by Prof Vibeke Zoffmann, Professor of Translational Empowerment, University of Copenhagen	University of Copenhagen
8.25 – 8.35am 6.25 – 6.35pm	Empowering university students in their transition into university. by Judy Currey, Professor in Nursing, School of Nursing and Midwifery, Faculty of Health	Deakin University
8.35 – 8.55 am 6.25 – 6.55pm	Panel Discussion and questions Moderator: Associate Professor Deb Kerr, School of Nursing and Midwifery	Deakin University
8.55 am 6.55pm	Thank you

Date and time

24th of November 2022 at 8am Danish time, 6 pm Australian time

Register for this meeting:

https://deakin.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZEkfuutpjsjHtO8_dcsDKDcr-WTRm9mmzFb

Place

Online

https://deakin.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZEkfuutpjsiHtO8_dcsDKDcr-WTRm9mmzFb

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

Organiser

Deakin University

About the Global Conversation Series

The Global Conversation Series is a part of the ongoing collaboration between Deakin University, the University of Southern Denmark and University of Copenhagen. The aim is to inspire continued development and provide opportunities for expansion of the network and collaboration and highlight our work in international partnerships.