

Global Conversations

Vulnerability ‘Cool cash call’

The first conversation in this series focuses ‘vulnerability’ in the context of clinical practice, communication and research. Following the presentations, the moderator will facilitate a conversation and take questions from participants.

Time (DK)	Topic and panelist	Institution
8 am 4 pm Australian time	Welcome by Bodil Rasmussen, Chair of Nursing (Western Health), School of Nursing and Midwifery	Deakin University
8.05 – 8.20 am	Vulnerability in a clinical context and relate it to older refugees by Dorthe Nielsen, Professor of vulnerability at the Immigrant Medicine Clinic, Infectious Medicine Department Q, Odense University Hospital and Geriatrics Department G at Odense University Hospital and at the Clinical Institute.	University of Southern Denmark
8.20 – 8.25 am	Contextual vulnerability and the spectrum of risk. by A/Prof Kate Anderson, Associate Head of School (Teaching and Learning), School of Health, Disability & Social Development	Deakin University
8.25 – 8.55 am	Panel Discussion and questions Moderator: A/Prof Mette Rothmann, Steno Diabetes Center Odense	University of Southern Denmark
8.55 am	Thank you

Date and time

27st of September 2022 at 8am Danish time, 4 pm Australian time

Register for this meeting:

<https://deakin.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZUrd--pqTkiHtVC2oXGZHnNsWhy9zYU7BoD>

Place

Online

<https://deakin.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZUrd--pqTkiHtVC2oXGZHnNsWhy9zYU7BoD>

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

Organiser

Deakin University

About the Global Conversation Series

The Global Conversation Series is a part of the ongoing collaboration between Deakin University and the University of Southern Denmark. The aim is to inspire continued development and provide opportunities for expansion of the network and collaboration and to highlight our work in international partnerships.

Upcoming Global Conversations:

26th of October: Transformative dialogues in clinical practice

24th of November: Building capacity to empower people